[Working title] - collaborative writing workshop

Description of Program/Event:

[Working title] is a monthly graduate student run workshop at UCI open to anyone interested in ethnographic research and collaborative reflection.

Presenters share a paper, essay, dissertation chapter or article and are prepared to field questions and comments about their work. Discussants prepare a 10-15 minute response to the submitted essay, to read or deliver on the day of the workshop. Participants read pre-circulated drafts and join in on the discussion. Each meeting will focus on the work of just one student, but will benefit all in attendance by focusing on the writing process, ethnographic methods and interdisciplinary legibility.

We are basing this request on just one workshop, but it will be a monthly workshop.
