General Program/Event Information

Program/Event Name:

Beach Bond Fire

Description of Program/Event:

GSG strives to provide monthly opportunities for graduate students in the field of science to come together and discuss all things graduate school. The March event will be held at the beautiful Huntington State Beach, where students can bond with their peers and enjoy fire-roasted snacks around the warmth of a bon fire (hence the event name, Beach Bond Fire). The main purpose of the event is to facilitate meaningful interactions among graduate students and to establish a network of support to assist them through their years in graduate school. The event also provides a stress-free environment for students to unwind and enjoy beautiful Southern California. The event will run from 6pm-8pm on Saturday, March 24th.

Location of Program/Event:

Huntington State Beach, 21601 Pacific Coast Hwy, Huntington Beach, CA 92646

Date of Program/Event:

03/24/2018

Start Time of Program/Event:

Expected Attendance

- Number of UCI Graduate Students Expected to Attend:
  - 30

- Number of UCI Undergraduate Students Expected to Attend:
  - 0

- Number of UCI Admin/Faculty/Staff Expected to Attend:
  - 5

- Number of Other People Expected to Attend:
  - 5

How are you predicting the attendance numbers listed above?

The predicted attendance is based on previous attendance for off campus GSG events, which includes graduate students and their family members or significant others.

Planned Methods of Advertisement:

Our primary form of advertising is through email. The flyer for the event, along with additional information is sent via email about 1-2 weeks prior to the event, with additional reminder emails being sent the day before the event. The flyer will also be posted in various buildings on campus. GSG also utilizes the bioscience TV monitors to advertise events more broadly throughout various buildings on campus. Lastly, GSG utilizes a Facebook page that will also advertise information about the event.
